

Good Deeds

LAJ Past President P. Craig Morrow (fourth from the left) flew in seven Navy SEALs from all over the nation to visit with the LSU Tiger football team and Coach Ed Orgeron before the LSU-Alabama game on November 3. Coach O requested that Morrow arrange the visit to motivate the Tigers prior to the game. The SEALs, who are retired from military service, met privately with the team that Friday night, and each offered motivational words to team members. During their visit, the SEALs also tailgated, ran out of the tunnel with the Tiger football team, and watched the game from the sidelines. Morrow coordinated the visit through Trial Lawyers for Warriors, the organization he founded, and Vets for Child Rescue. Craig Sawyer, a SEAL and friend of Morrow, founded Vets for Child Rescue. Pictured with Morrow are Coach Orgeron and six of the seven SEALs.
